Pale red core, with some browning notes. Noticeably intense floral, herbal and earthy nose. Ripe and tart red fruits. Cherry, strawberry, cranberry, fall away to red flowers, mossy, underbrush like aromas, herbal and strong crushed rock. The palate turns tarter. No signs of oak influence.

NOTES :

Also known as Bastardo, the style of trousseau in the Jura is unique. Easy to confuse (compare to) cool climate Pinot Noir however, this wine has a more wild/sauvage character and a more acid-driven, nervy core. The wine surprises with its ripeness and density on the nose and palate given its pale colors.

Retail Price: $37.50
